COMMITMENT TO INNOVATION

Point Blank Body Armor is recognized as one of the first companies in the United States to design and manufacture body armor. Since 1973, Point Blank has grown into an internationally diversified company with the most visible brand recognition, considered today to be the premier source of body armor systems in the world.

At Point Blank, we know the complex and ever changing threats law enforcement and corrections officers face each day and intrinsically understand their needs for optimum ballistic protection that combines maximum comfort and mobility with split-second adaptability.

For over 4 decades, Point Blank has helped shape major developments in the body armor industry. Our unyielding commitment in delivering maximum performance products which consistently exceed military, National Institute of Justice (NIJ) and International requirements are a testament to our superior quality standards.

LIVE FIRE SHOOT DEMONSTRATIONS

Since the value of body armor has become so clear in light of today's hostile conditions, our engineering team and ballistic specialists take extraordinary measures in ensuring that our armor is consistent with the needs of our customers.

We continuously monitor the law enforcement and corrections communities to assess the potential of new street and institutional threats. Once a new product is available, our highly trained technical support specialists routinely perform live-fire shoot demonstrations nationwide. These events allow law enforcement officials and our distributors an opportunity to experience the exceptional performance of our ballistic systems first-hand.

HOW SOFT BODY ARMOR WORKS

PROTECTION AGAINST BALLISTIC THREATS

When a bullet or projectile strikes body armor, it is caught in a “web” of high performance fibers that are layered and stitched to exceed certain bullet resistant specifications. The engaged fibers absorb and disperse the impact energy that is transmitted to the vest from the bullet, causing the bullet to deform or “mushroom”. Additional energy is absorbed by each successive layer of material in the vest, until such time as the bullet has been stopped. Because the fibers work together in both the individual layer and with other layers of material in the vest, a large area of the garment becomes involved in preventing the bullet from penetrating, as well as dissipating the forces which can cause non-penetrating injuries to internal organs.

POINT BLANK UTILIZES A BLEND OF HIGH STRENGTH FIBERS, WHICH ARE 6 TO 9 TIMES STRONGER THAN STEEL ON AN EQUAL WEIGHT BASIS

PROTECTION AGAINST BLUNT TRAUMA

Point Blank Ballistic Material    NIJ Standard

Since soft body armor deforms backward upon impact, it also deforms backward into the wearer of the vest. The damage to tissue caused by this transfer of kinetic energy is called blunt trauma. Minimizing blunt trauma helps save lives, since it not only reduces internal injury, but prevents temporary incapacitation during the initial hit, allowing the wearer to respond immediately in a high-threat situation. In testing against a soft clay backstop, a 1.7” (44 mm) deformation is the maximum indication of blunt trauma allowed by the National Institute of Justice (NIJ). As illustrated, Point Blank holds itself to an internal standard that is more stringent than NIJ requirements.

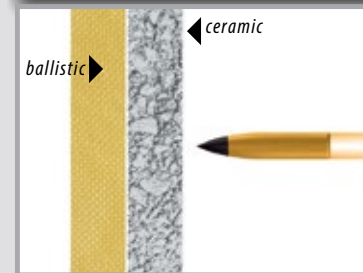

According to research conducted by The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the risk of fatal injuries for officers who do not routinely wear body armor is 14 times greater than for those who do.

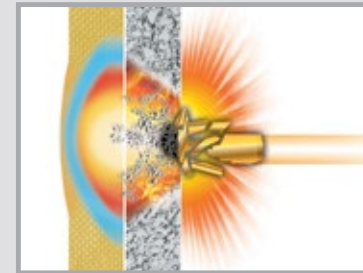

As a company dedicated to serving the law enforcement and corrections community, a startling statistic such as this is the driving force behind our primary commitment, to provide the safest, most comfortable body armor in the world. To date, the lives of over 3,000 law enforcement officers have been saved by the use of bullet-resistant body armor. Officers trust Point Blank’s line of concealable and tactical body armor because they know they don’t have to compromise comfort for performance. As street threats increase in number and capacity, our experts in the Point Blank Technology and Testing Center are continuously testing and evaluating new advancements in ballistic technology to produce vests which not only offer superior protection but optimum comfort for daily wear. Point Blank is proud to stand at the forefront of this endeavor and will work diligently to communicate the importance of body armor, so that officers will stay protected.

HOW HARD BODY ARMOR WORKS

INSIDE HARD ARMOR PLATE

Ceramic plates are designed to stop rifle rounds and armor-piercing rounds which have a penetrating steel pin in the bullet. Plates are engineered by bonding a layer of ceramic to a hard panel made of multiple layers of ballistic material wrapped in a fabric covering.

As the bullet hits the plate, the hard ceramic strike face begins to break up the bullet while the ballistic material begins to absorb the energy of the penetration.

The round continues to break apart as the ballistic material extracts energy, decelerating the projectile and catching the fragments while limiting the effect of blunt trauma, the injury caused by an impacting bullet.

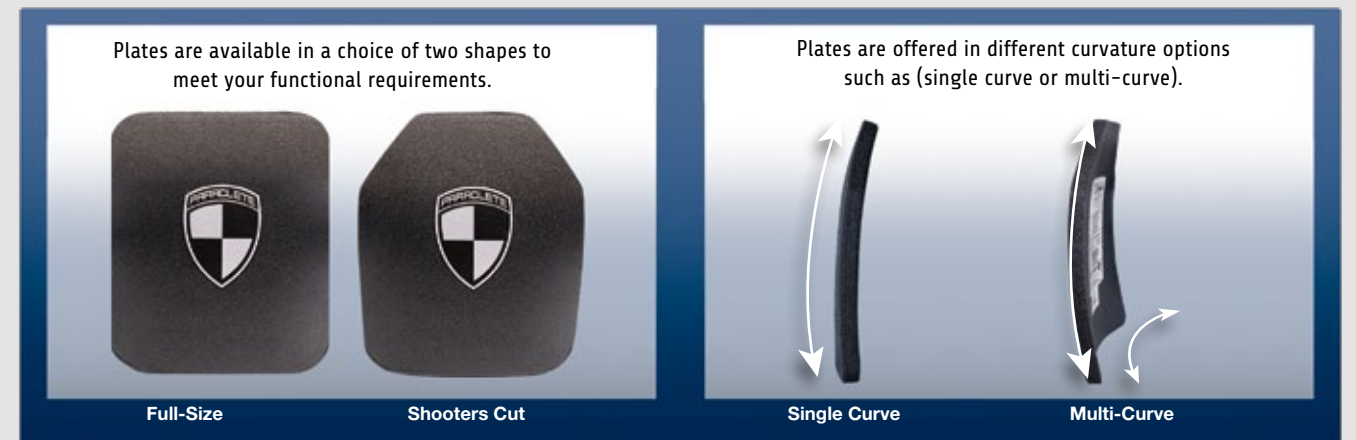

Hard body armor typically incorporates an ultra-hard, ballistic ceramic top layer combined with a laminated blend of unidirectionally oriented fiber bundles which work together to stop bullets and fragments. Some ultra light-weight plates do not incorporate ceramics in their construction.

These nonceramic designs are effective against Level III threats. Ceramic hard armor works by disrupting the aerodynamic shape of the bullet and dissipating the energy through the shattering of the ceramic top layer.

The blunted or shattered bullet the ceramic fragments (secondary projectile) are caught in laminated blend of high performance fibers, thereby inhibiting penetration.

Point Blank offers several types of Hard Armor Plates capable of defeating high-powered Level III & IV rifle rounds either in combination with Point Blank’s Level IIIA certified soft body armor systems or as a stand-alone.

The material construction of the plate can vary, which will affect weight and thinness.

- Hard body armor typically incorporates an ultra-hard, ballistic ceramic top layer combined with a laminated blend of unidirectionally oriented fiber bundles which work together to stop bullets and fragments.
- Ultra-high molecular weight polyethylene plates do not incorporate ceramics in their construction. These plates are exceptionally lightweight and effective against a variety of Special threats.
- Steel plates possess a unique micro-structure with high strength and ductility. These plates absorb multi-hits from high velocity rifle weapons and offer freedom of movement due to its ultra-thin design.

TACTICAL BODY ARMOR

Point Blank's full-line of mission adaptable Tactical Body Armor Systems are exclusively designed to meet the demanding needs of high-risk tactical teams. Each vest features a fully-integrated modular design that offers instant adaptability, time-tested reliability and the most technologically advanced ballistic systems available today. More SWAT officers trust Point Blank's tactical vests because when it comes to responding to dangerous missions, they know there's no compromise when it comes to total protection.

PLATE RACK

The plate rack is a minimalist carrier designed to carry a front and back rifle plate. The Plate Rack is intended to "plus up" conventional soft armor by being worn over the uniform in active shooter type scenarios to protect the officer from high velocity rifle threats which soft armor is not capable of defeating. Accommodates rifle plate sizes 8x10 and 10x12, and adapts to thin steel rifle plates and thicker composite rifle plates.

PLATE CARRIER

The Plate Carrier is designed to accommodate front, back and side rifle plates with most cummerbund designs. In addition to hard armor plates, some plate carriers are also designed to accept additional soft armor protection behind the plates which are commonly referred to as "Plate Backers." Plate Carriers can be worn over conventional soft armor, or, as a stand-alone system.

SCALABLE PLATE CARRIER

Bridging the gap between a plate carrier and a tactical vest, the scalable plate carrier takes the concept of a plate carrier with the added benefit of becoming a highly maneuverable scalable "Light Tactical Carrier" with the addition of optional ballistic accessories. The Scalable Plate Carrier accepts rifle plates in the front and back, plate backer soft armor inserts and available side cummerbund soft armor inserts.

LIGHT TACTICAL

The Light Tactical Carrier is intended to provide additional wrap around front and back soft armor ballistic panels in a slightly smaller scale to allow for optimum maneuverability. In addition to extended wrap around front and back ballistic panels, the Light Tactical Carrier can accept rifle plates in the front and back, and available side cummerbund soft armor inserts.

MEDIUM TACTICAL

The Medium Tactical Carrier is intended to provide longer full wrap around front and back soft armor ballistic panels in a conventional tactical design to allow for greater coverage than a light tactical carrier. The full wrap around front and back ballistic panels allow for overlapping side ballistic coverage, without the need for cummerbund ballistics.

HEAVY TACTICAL

The Heavy Tactical Carrier is the largest of the tactical carrier designs and affords the greatest amount of front and back ballistic panel protection. The front and back ballistic panels are scaled wider and longer for maximum allowable soft armor coverage. The Heavy Tactical design is NOT well suited for small or medium sized operators due to limited movement because of panel size.

CORRECTIONS CARRIERS

Our advanced body armor systems are specifically designed to help protect Corrections officers against spikes, shanks and other potentially lethal weapons typically found in corrections facilities. In response to the ever volatile conditions and unique threats Corrections professionals face each day, our body armor systems provide the superior puncture and slash resistant protection needed for optimal performance. Tested and certified by NIJ, our body armor systems provide exceptional torso, bicep, neck and groin protection against ice picks and other sharp edged, pointed weapons. We offer high performance stab packages in (Spike 1, 2 or 3), optional Edge Weapon Level III protection, as well as combo packages that offer ballistic and spike protection.

NIJ 0115.00 Standard for Stab Resistance

The NIJ rates body armor on resistance to hand-delivered stab threats – the NIJ 0115.00 Standard. Maximum penetration of 0.28”/7mm is allowed as serious injury is extremely unlikely with such a shallow wound. Also an “Over-test” is applied, to push the breaking point of the armor, where 0.79” / 20mm of penetration is allowed. Ice-pick or improvised “Spike” weapons testing is regularly conducted by Point Blank through its independent laboratories.

STAB THREATS

PROTECTION AGAINST STAB THREATS

Body armor that is ballistic resistant does not necessarily make it stab or puncture resistant (and vice versa). Sharp edged and hand made instruments with pointed tips such as spikes, awls or shanks generally do not need to tear the fabric to penetrate – it merely moves the fibers aside. Point Blank utilizes a combination of super fine, ultra-dense materials, which prevent pointed objects from spreading or moving the individual yarns to stop penetration/puncture.

POUCHES

Point Blank's modular pouches include a patented attachment system that negates the need for clips, snaps, plastic tie downs, and cordage. The attachment device is permanently affixed to the equipment assembly, so it cannot be lost or otherwise separated from the pocket, pouch, or holster. This system will not rust or become unserviceable even under the most extreme environmental conditions and it maintains its flexibility in frigid climates. No other tactical modular attachment system in the world today can compare with its simplicity, durability, and flexibility.
